

KRAB?
SEATTLE?
SEPTEMBER?

The International News

Starting September 14 KRAB will be broadcasting (almost) daily news about what is happening in other parts of the world. This program will replace the weekly news summaries that Jim and Tom Lobe have been producing over the last five months, and will provide more time for more timely and detailed coverage of events. The News will be produced by Jim Lobe, using the resources of the British Broadcasting Service's World Service, Internews, National Public Radio, and an abundance of printed materials including foreign newspapers and international journals that we expect to provide the behind the scenes insight necessary to the understanding of world events. For the last half of September you can hear the news each Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday night at 10:00 PM. We have purposely chosen this time, as it does not conflict with any other radio or television news program, that we are aware of. In October we'll add a fifth night, Monday.

Why Does The Program Guide Look This Way?

First off, our scheduling has been undergoing a number of changes, many of which you will notice after a look inside. Even more changes are planned for October, changes that we hope to make it easier for you to find what you want to hear within the programming, as well as allow space for some new shows. Second, In July we included a business reply envelope with each program guide and a letter urging extra support. While this did help to boost our income for early July, we were not able to afford envelopes for August, thus contributions fell off, dwindled, disappeared. All of this explanation we hope dramatizes the continuing need for your support. We couldn't afford the regular size guide, and while we do feel the guide important, KRAB is not in the publishing business: the radio comes first. (at the time this is being written we are off the air due to transmitter failure -- hopefully it will not cost us overmuch to have it repaired). At any rate, if all goes well, there is a business reply envelope in this guide. Please use it if you've got an extra dollar to spare. Thanks.

How To Read Your Address Label

Actually the only additional information contained on these labels is expiration date, and that is remarkably easy to decipher: The first number is the last digit of the year it expires, 1976 reduces to 6, 1977 reduces to 7, and 1978 to 8. The second two numbers are the month it expires: thus the whole number such as 703, would decode as 1977, 3 month (March). We are telling you all of this so that you can see for yourself when it is time to renew, and doublecheck the subscription processing when you send a check in.

As announced last month, KRAB will occasionally trade address lists with other non-profit organizations, on a once only use basis. Anyone who does not want their name traded off can have their name and address deleted from the traded list by calling the station and requesting same. We will not violate your privacy, but you'll have to tell us first.

KRAB is a noncommercial educational radio station licensed to the Jack Straw Memorial Foundation, a non-profit corporation. The station broadcasts at an effective radiated power of 45,000 watts, on a frequency of 107.7 MHz, FM. Offices and studios are located at 1406 Harvard, Seattle, Wa 98122.

Listeners who contribute $25 or more each year become subscribers, and are entitled to receive the monthly program guide, of which this is one. Checks should be made out to KRAB, and all donations are tax-deductible.

Early in the formation of KRAB it was argued that for a radio station to be truly responsive to the needs of that part of "the community" not favored with access to, or programming produced by, commercial media, that station must, among other things, be operated by a small, dedicated, low paid staff whose goal is to encourage and support the activities of volunteers in producing the actual programming. This continues to be the way of KRAB. There are many things for volunteers to do at KRAB, ranging from the vital support activities of addressing, envelope stuffing and clean-up, to the also vital areas of programming: recording, board operation, and production. If you are interested, please call or come by the station.

And, KRAB exists as a forum for arts and ideas, both entertaining and educational, normally not heard on the radio. Anyone with opinions in disagreement with those expressed on any program broadcast on KRAB is invited to contact the station for time to express their views.

Oh yes, our phone number is 325-5110.
